FUND OVERVIEW

The NewGen Equity Long-Short Fund LP Class F (NGLS) seeks to balance steady risk-adjusted performance with capital preservation, in order to deliver a unique return stream that can provide real diversification benefits. The NGLS aims to achieve this by targeting persistent structural inefficiencies that exist in the equity markets and are particularly prevalent in Canada. In order to minimize downside volatility, the Fund adheres to disciplined risk management targets, with a highly liquid portfolio and defensive exposures (market and sector).

The Fund's active management style is based on an investment process that merges both trading and fundamental analysis and sources Alpha (excess return) from stock-specific ideas with catalysts (i.e. corporate updates, financings, index addition/deletions, clean-ups/blocks, strategic reviews, M&A, etc) over a short and medium-term time horizon. The portfolio is typically concentrated around 40-60 positions that are balanced between both longs and shorts. Through this portfolio composition, net exposures generally range from 20-40%, thereby minimizing Beta (systematic risk).

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

The NGLS fund was -0.61% in August (-9.17% YTD) compared to the TSX Composite which was -1.84% (-8.92% YTD). Market momentum from July initially continued midway into August, before aggressively selling off into month-end. Previous hopes that inflation may be easing and that the FED may adopt a less restrictive rate path quickly faded at the Jackson Hole Symposium, with Chairman Powell's commentary that policy will remain restrictive "for some time". Bond yields and the USD resumed their uptrend, at the expense of most other asset classes. The Canadian market fared better than US and European market indices, supported by defensive sectors, while Technology and REITs lagged. Some of the noteworthy wins for the Fund included 1) Long Teck Resources (TECK/B-TSX), which benefited from continued strength in met coal prices, 2) Long Nutrien (NTR-TSX) as the war in Ukraine has led to tightness in fertilizer markets, and 3) Long Enerplus (ERF-TSX), due to strength in Oil and Natural Gas pricing.
