

FUND OVERVIEW

The NewGen Equity Long-Short LP Class F Fund (NGLS) seeks to balance steady risk-adjusted performance with capital preservation, in order to deliver a unique return stream that can provide real diversification benefits. The NGLS aims to achieve this by targeting persistent structural inefficiencies that exist in the equity markets and are particularly prevalent in Canada. In order to minimize downside volatility, the Fund adheres to disciplined risk management targets, with a highly liquid portfolio and defensive exposures (market and sector). The Fund's active management style is based on an investment process that merges both trading and fundamental analysis and sources Alpha (excess return) from stock-specific ideas with catalysts (i.e. corporate updates, financings, index addition/deletions, clean-ups/blocks, strategic reviews, M&A, etc) over a short and medium-term time horizon. The portfolio is typically concentrated around 40-60 positions that are balanced between both longs and shorts. Through this portfolio composition, net exposures generally range from 20-40%, thereby minimizing Beta (systematic risk).

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

The NGLS LP Class F returned 4.08% in October (9.54% YTD) compared to the TSX Composite which returned 0.65% (15.26% YTD). The TSX continued its winning streak in October, closing in positive territory for a fourth consecutive month. The Canadian market outperformed its US counterparts, who closed lower as the upcoming Presidential election comes closer into view. Ongoing geopolitical tensions continued to impact commodity prices, particularly gold, which finished the month +4.2%, just shy of its record high of $2,788/oz, while energy prices spiked double digits before settling +2.2% on the month. US economic data was mixed, however, a strong labour market reduced the odds of an additional 50 bps cuts later in the year, causing Treasury yields to rally above 4% for the first time in 3 months. North of the border, the Bank of Canada proceeded with its 50 bps rate cut, as expected, and the Federal Government announced reforms to its immigration policy which pressured certain sectors like Communication Services and Real Estate. Across the TSX, Energy (+4.8%), Health Care (+4.6%) and Materials (+3.7%) led, while Real Estate (-6%), Communication Services (-4.3%) and Consumer Staples (-2.8%), lagged. Some noteworthy winners from the month included: (1) long Propel Holdings (PRL-TSX), which closed an equity financing to fund the purchase of a UK-based lender; (2) long AtkinsRealis (ATRL-TSX), which announced positive developments in its engineering services segment related to critical infrastructure in water and nuclear power; and, (3) long Iamgold (IMG-TSX), which saw continued ramp up success at its main development project (Cote Lake).
