

FUND STRATEGY

The NewGen Alternative Income Fund seeks to provide unitholders with a combination of steady long-term capital appreciation and a stable stream of income. The Fund invests both long and short in an actively managed diversified portfolio of predominantly Canadian securities (equities, fixed income, preferred shares, warrants, SPACs and options). It employs a broad range of strategies including fundamental long/short, opportunistic long/short, pairs trading, hedging and option strategies. The Manager places a strong emphasis on risk management and defensive market positioning in order to reduce market Beta and preserve capital in adverse market conditions.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

The NewGen Alternative Income Fund (Class F) returned -2.51% in January (-2.51% YTD) including a regular monthly distribution of 4.85c/unit. Equity markets headed off the new year in positive territory, with the TSX closing just shy of all-time highs. January had no shortage of headlines, which created a dynamic trading environment. The US Federal Reserve and Bank of Canada acted as expected, with the former holding rates steady, and the latter taking a small cut. Tech stocks checked back on mixed earnings results and the news that DeepSeek's AI model was trained at a fraction of the cost of its peers; calling into question the large capital intensity required for the future of artificial intelligence. In the end, January ended on an ominous note for the TSX, with US President Trump announcing that he will impose 25% tariffs on imports from Canada, and a 10% tariff of Canadian energy, beginning on February 2nd. The ongoing negotiations between the US and its trading partners is sure to dominate news flow and trading action for the foreseeable future. Yields finished the month slightly lower, while the US dollar strengthened. Commodities marched higher in response to tariff rhetoric, with gold (+6.6%), oil (+1.8%) and copper (+6.3%) all advancing. Across the TSX, Materials (+10.2%), Technology (+10%) and Industrials (+3.4%) led, while Utilities (-0.5%), Consumer Staples (-2.7%), and Health Care (-2.9%) lagged. Some noteworthy winners from the month included: (1) long Nutrien (NTR-TSX), which appreciated in response to rising agricultural commodity prices; (2) long Methanex (MX-TSX), which reported quarterly results and a Q1/25 outlook that was ahead of expectations; and, (3) long Boyd Group (BYD-TSX), which advanced in response to positive weather impacts to start the new year.
