

FUND STRATEGY

The NewGen Alternative Income Fund seeks to provide unitholders with a combination of steady long-term capital appreciation and a stable stream of income. The Fund invests both long and short in an actively managed diversified portfolio of predominantly Canadian securities (equities, fixed income, preferred shares, warrants, SPACs and options). It employs a broad range of strategies including fundamental long/short, opportunistic long/short, pairs trading, hedging and option strategies. The Manager places a strong emphasis on risk management and defensive market positioning in order to reduce market Beta and preserve capital in adverse market conditions.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

The NewGen Alternative Income Fund (Class F) returned 1.07% in March (-3.62% YTD) including a regular monthly distribution of 4.85c/unit. Equity markets soured in the month of March, with risk-off sentiment pervading ahead of the Trump administration's April 2nd "Liberation Day" tariff announcement. While US stocks posted their worst quarter since 2022, the TSX has notably outperformed (+77 bps Q1/25 vs the S&P 500 -4.6% and the NASDAQ -10.4%), buoyed its exposure to inflation sensitive commodities and safe haven assets like gold. The yellow metal continued its advance to new highs, closing the month at US$3,124/oz, while copper (10.7%) and oil (3.1%) also posted strong gains. Throughout the month, tariff induced recessionary concerns mounted, causing the USD and front-end rates to weaken. Across the TSX, Materials (+7%), Energy (+3.3%) and Consumer Staples (+2.3%) led, while Technology (-12.7%), Industrials (-4.8%) and Health Care (-4.7%) lagged. Some noteworthy winners from the month included: (1) long Altgas Ltd (ALA-TSX), which reported in-line quarterly results and guidance and benefitted from investor demand for defensive sectors; (2) long the North West Company (NWC-TSX), which remains insulated from tariff impacts and trades at an attractive multiple relative to its peers; and, (3) long Veren Inc. (VRN-TSX), which announced its merger with Whitecap Resources (WCP-TSX) in a deal valued at $15 B.
